Brewster Chamber of Commerce Celebrates 60th
Anniversary With Free Shindig at Wells Park!

Going Strong Since 1957!

This year, Brewster Chamber of Commerce is celebrating a milestone, their 60th anniversary! Founded in 1957, the Brewster Chamber had mainly local businesses helping make up the hub of the Hudson Valley. Brewster had: Bennie’s Stationery, Southeast Playhouse, Oxman’s Office Supplies, New York Department Store, and the Cameo Theater which was showing Bridge on the River Kwai, and 12 Angry Men. Mahopac Drive-In movies, Hope’s Drug Store Soda Fountain in Brewster, and Brewster Lanes bowling Alley (near the Pink Dinosaur) were the places to hang out.

Village of Brewster Trustee Tom Boissonnault, Village Clerk Peter Hansen, Brewster Chamber of Commerce Staff; Executive Director Rose Aglieco, VP Bill Flash, and President Geoffrey Reinwald.

If you lived in Brewster back in 1957, you could take the train to Mahopac, leave off the “Brewster (27) 9” and just dial the last 4 digits when placing a phone call and you did not have the convenience of 684 or 84. The girls wore poodle skirts and boys had crew-cuts. Hula-hoops were the rage. The Top 100 Hits included: All Shook Up, Little Darlin’, Love Letters in the Sand, and Bye Bye Love.

FREE Attendance For Everyone on August 6th, From 1:00 PM to 6:00 PM at Wells Park!
Music, Dancing, Food, Games, Car Show...All 1957!!!

The whole community is invited to celebrate and view exhibits from current Chamber members who play a vital role in our community.

THE STATE OF THE VILLAGE

Summer's Here and the Crops are Ripening

The Village of Brewster is full of excitement as we enter the summer season for 2017. Wells Park is again hosting various events including movie nights with live music and concessions. June 17th will be our “Dads and Dogs” event falling on Father’s Day weekend and our 2nd movie night is on July 15th. More information on events in Wells Park is on page five of this issue.

The Brewster Chamber of Commerce’s 60th Anniversary celebration is also being held in Wells Park on August 6th from 1:00 PM to 6:00 PM! This ‘Shindig’ is a major highlight of our summer and we are all looking forward to a fantastic day full of music, dancing, food, games, a car show, and much more all with a 1957 theme, the year the Brewster Chamber was founded. Keep an eye out for more details as the date approaches and, lastly; it’s free admission for all!

The Hudson Valley Regional Farmer’s Market is still going strong year-round. Ideally summer- time is the season for the fresh crops along with meats, dairy, breads, coffee, flowers, fruit and all those extras for you and your body, your house, and your pets. The market is held every Sunday 10-2 (excluding certain holidays) at the Hudson Valley Cerebral Palsy Association on Doansburg Road; heading north on Route 22, make a right at the traffic light immediately after McDonalds, onto Mt. Ebo Rd. S., and into Mt. Ebo Corporate Park.

Tilly Foster Farm will be starting Tilly’s Table, a farm to table restaurant on location featuring great food and beverage and Sunday Brunch! This remarkable transformation of a former dairy farm into a precious community resource is a welcome change thanks to the leadership of Putnam County Executive MaryEllen Odell and the Putnam County Legislature. Well done!

Wells Park is an outstanding venue for private or public events with a covered pavilion, playground sets, multi-purpose field, stage, and tennis courts. Come utilize the facilities while we are open or rent sections for a private event using the forms and instructions on our website “Wells Park Facility Guide & Rental Information.” The Village is eager to help businesses or individuals looking for an outdoor venue to host an event or classes of some kind that are considered community-focused activities. Come utilize all the great space that Wells Park has to offer. If you know of someone, please have them contact Tom Boissonnault, our Village Trustee and Parks Commissioner to discuss it in further detail.

Brewster Founder’s Day Street Fair is coming up on September 24, 2017. If you are a vendor or would like information on participating you can email: info@brewsterfoundersday.com or visit <http://betterbrewster.org/> for more information. Founder’s Day was the most spectacular ever this past September and we are looking forward to another record-breaking celebration and hope you will join us for a great day in the life of our Village.

The Bike and Hike Trail is proceeding with work on both the East Branch of the Croton River trestle crossing and the construction design of the new bridge over the Metro North tracks this year. We are looking forward to being fully connected sooner rather than later. Wells Park itself will soon have its own connection to the Maybrook Rail Trail spur, the connection to the NYC-North County-Putnam-Maybrook-Rail Trail, and the future connection to Beacon, Walkway over the Hudson, and the 750-mile Empire State Trail. Brewster is, or soon will be connected in more ways than commuter rail and interstate highways. The future is brightly shining on us and as the Brewster Chamber of Commerce slogan says, with slight editorial liberty; “All Roads [and TRAILS!] Lead to Brewster.”

Brewster Honda is hard at work improving our eastern gateway with the construction of a new showroom at a rapid pace after recently completing a new service facility on Allview Avenue. That side of the Village will soon have a rebuilt gas station and convenience store as well. We are looking forward to new vibrancy as you enter the Village limits with much more to come in our core downtown area.

Meanwhile, the Village Board of Trustees continued the tradition of adopting on-time budgets at or below the state mandated budget cap. This year the allowable tax cap levy increase was 1.15% above last year’s tax levy. Over the years substantial cuts have been made in our budget going from a high of $2,466,916 in the 2009 General Fund down to $1,461,949 this year. That’s a savings of over $1,000,000 (that’s right – one million dollars). We didn’t need the State of New York to tell us to cut costs because we started long before the tax cap became law. Our total tax levy this year is still almost $10,000 less than it was in 2009. The adoption of the 2018 Village Budget officially took place on April 19, 2017. We are proud of our accomplishments and never stop trying to find the lowest cost to provide the best possible level of services for our residents.

Legislative Update

Public Hearings for two Local Laws which amend existing Village of Brewster legislation were scheduled to be held on April 5, 2017. No comments were made by those in attendance and no written comments were received. During the regular meeting, the Board of Trustees voted unanimously to adopt both local laws. Chapter 199 Sign Law was revised as recommended during last year’s Comprehensive Plan Update. For clarification purposes, Local Law 1 of 2017 now includes several definitions which were added or modified, and allowable commercial sign specifications which were refined. A new Comprehensive Sign Program section was also included in order to provide requirements for commercial development signage which will still need to be approved by the Planning Board.

Local Law 2 of 2017 amended Chapter 263 Zoning to make cabarets a Special Exception Use in B1 District (Business 1) and B3 District (Business 3). This change means that anyone who wishes to operate a new or existing cabaret must apply for a special permit and must comply with the specific set of requirements included in the amended law. This law includes the procedure for revoking, temporarily or permanently, any Special Exception Use Permit if compliance is not maintained.

On February 15, 2017 the Board of Trustees approved a resolution to revise the official Village of Brewster fee schedule. A review of the fee schedule occurs when there is a need to clarify items included in the fee schedule or when the fee amounts need to be adjusted. This review was an attempt to do both.

And, finally, the 2017-2018 annual budget was approved by the Board on April 19, 2017. All documentation is available on the Village website: www.brewstervillage-ny.gov.

MAYOR’S CORNER

On April 7th The Village of Brewster Police Department held a fund raiser for our K-9 Falco. K-9 Falco is a trained explosives detection dog who is used in Brewster including the train station and provides support for other agencies throughout the Hudson Valley when called upon. K-9 Falco is four years old and was diagnosed with lymphatic cancer about six months ago. We made the choice to try to save Falco so he might continue his service to our community as a valued member of law enforcement.

We began our fundraising quietly at first with a couple of posts on Facebook and word of mouth through the veterinarian’s office and the law enforcement community. Immediately people responded. We then worked with the Putnam County SPCA Officers and established a Go-Fund-Me page to solicit donations on a wider basis. This provided an even greater response. Then we wanted to do a fundraiser and were pointed in the direction of the Brewster Elks Lodge #2101, as they had honored a Brewster Police Officer in the past and are a continuous benefactor to the community. The Brewster Elks Lodge jumped in with both feet and provided a memorable evening of food, camaraderie, entertainment, and fundraising that increased our cash on hand for Falco’s treatment and future care by leaps and bounds.

One interesting part of this was the event was run by the Brewster Elks Lodge after only one phone call. K-9 Falco was diagnosed with Lymphoma in October of 2016 Falco. The veterinarian told us that without treatment he had only about four weeks to live. We told them to go ahead with the treatment and we would figure out a way to pay for it. After meeting with Brewster Police Chief Del Gardo and K-9 Officer Italiano we decided to do a fund raiser. That was the easy part, now how do we do it. This is where the Brewster Elks Lodge came to the rescue.

Town of Southeast Councilman Bob Cullen who is also a member of the Brewster Elks Lodge told us to contact Leading Elk Ruben Castro. After speaking with Mr. Castro within a day or two he called me back and said the organization was on board one hundred percent. We came away speechless after our first meeting with them. The Brewster Elks Lodge said they would take care of everything from the facilities, food, refreshments and raffle gifts and we would all work on advertising together.

I was amazed at how perfect strangers stepped up without blinking an eye to raise money for our K-9. This was true not only of the Elks Lodge but of all the people who came out that night or donated money through Go-Fund-Me, by mail, in person, or through the Elks. The night was topped off with the 50/50 being drawn by Putnam County Executive Maryllen Odell. As she read the number off the ticket, the winner turned out to be Mr. Falcone whose son was a Police Officer killed in the line of duty and who K-9 Falco is named after. Mr. Falcone was gracious enough to donate the money back.

This event was a huge success with over one hundred and fifty people in attendance raising about $6,000.00 for Falco’s treatment and care. On behalf of the Village of Brewster, our Police Department and our entire community I want to thank the Brewster Elks Lodge #2101 for their selfless commitment and untiring support throughout the fundraiser.

There are also a few Elk Lodge members who went above and beyond what anyone could expect. I want to personally thank Ruben Castro, Bob Cullen, Andrew DeStefano, Kenny Gervasi, Peter Fioti and all the people who helped in the kitchen with the food, serving, cleaning, and making sure everyone had everything they needed.

Last but not least the Elk Fab Five, as I call them, who worked nonstop on this event Angelique Castro, Lorraine Markell, Rose Lavelle, Mary Boder and Peggy Papp. Thank you everyone who came out to support K-9 Falco, with your help Falco will continue to get the treatment and care he needs to resume being a productive member of the Brewster Police force. We are humbled by our community and the generosity of the people who surround us.

P.S. Don’t forget the Flag Day Ceremony at the Elks Lodge
Route 22 on June 14th at 6:00 PM

Thank you all,
-Mayor James J. Schoenig

Congratulations Brewster Chamber on Reaching Your 60th Anniversary!

Thank You for Serving the Community of Brewster and Southeast Since

As a past Chamber of Commerce President I can appreciate the hard work and dedication of all the staff and volunteers on a continuing basis. Your hearts and minds are in the right place and we greatly appreciate it. The Village of Brewster is on the verge of revitalization and is set to contribute to the vibrancy of our community and the region through increased housing opportunities, retail, commercial, and restaurant space, and plenty of parking for commuters and shoppers alike.

Our Revitalization has been a work in progress for over four years and as you may have seen from our conceptual drawing, the transformation into Transit Oriented Development (TOD) will be dramatic while retaining the Main Street charm we have all come to appreciate. The referenced conceptual drawings show phase I of the Urban Renewal Plan. There are four more phases identified including the abandoned Garden Street School. Stay tuned because Brewster’s transformation is exciting and holds great promise for an improved economy, more opportunities for recreation and a stronger sense of community and common purpose.

The goal from the start has been simple, to make the village a destination. I urge you to follow along with us in our quarterly newspaper “The Village Matters” or on our website www.brewstervillage-ny.gov and Facebook page @BrewsterVillageNY, and join us at meetings as the developer starts the submittal and approval process.

We look forward to welcoming many of our previous businesses back home to the Village once progress is well underway and that would include the Chamber of Commerce where it was located for many years. These are exciting times and we want you to become part of our transformation and rebirth. Thank you for being a driving force in our community and congratulations again on reaching such a major milestone.

-Mayor James J. Schoenig

We are excited about this concept because it provides a platform of exposure for the great chefs in our midst and adds some interesting and unexpected cuisine to our repertoire.”

We look forward to expanded business opportunities among hospitality, agriculture, and other tourism enterprises.”

Tilly Foster offers a wide array of attractions, activities, and entertainment, including visits with friendly farm animals, a hiking trail, community gardening, culinary arts education, and regularly scheduled entertainment events – and of course, the best farm-to-table dining in the Hudson Valley.

“I am very excited about the re-opening of Tilly Foster Farm,” said Bruce Conklin, director, Putnam Tourism. “It will be a great venue for our local residents and out of town guests to enjoy the hospitality and natural beauty that Putnam has to offer. Between the farm and its animals, the County’s commitment to agricultural and culinary education with the BOCES program, and its event based schedule, Tilly Foster will be more than just a farm, and will serve as a representative of Hudson Valley culture and the farm-to-table movement.”

Brewster Police Department’s K-9 Falco Medical Update

Chief John DelGardo is pleased to advise the community of our latest update on Falco’s medical condition and prognosis. Falco our Police K-9 has been serving on the Brewster Police Department since 2013, he is a 4 ½ year old, German Shepherd, first diagnosed with lymphoma in November of last year. Falco is now beyond the half way mark in his treatment.

The good news is, he is in FULL remission. Falco has undergone and overcome difficult issues during his treatment. Finally, he has stopped getting sick after the chemo treatments.

Unfortunately, he developed an allergy that subsequently required a dietary change and he is now on a special diet. Falco has been working through out and continuing with his monthly in-service training. He’s extremely eager to please and always wants to go to work.

According to Sergeant Italiano “He gets very excited and loves to be in the truck and at work. He is in good spirits, has a good appetite and the prognosis is very good.” Once again, medical treatment for Brewster’s K-9 Falco could not have happened without the financial support of so many selfless individuals, companies and associations. On behalf of the Brewster Police Department – we thank you for your loyalty and support.

LIFE IN BREWSTER

Life in Brewster During the Flying & Fightin' 40's

Both photos courtesy of the Southeast Museum:
The Brewster Centennial Parade 1848-1948

As we move toward the revitalization of our village I took the opportunity to meet with and listen to folks who lived in Brewster all their lives and personally witnessed the sea of changes throughout their years, particularly in the 1940's.

A few of the men routinely meet for coffee at a local Dunkin' Donuts so I decided to join them and listen to their conversations about the days before the big war, during the war and after.

Two of the men talked about their father acquiring the ice business in 1914 from the Hein family. The ice was cut in different sizes at the ice house in the Tonetta Lake area and delivered by horse and wagon with prices ranging from 10 to 50 cents. Unfortunately as refrigerators began to flourish the ice business slowly became unviable ending in 1944.

There were three main hotels in the Village; Southeast House, Brewster House and New England Hotel. Two of the hotels were on Main Street and the New England Hotel was on North Main Street. The New England Hotel was more for transient men and men working for the railroad at the Round House. Without cars many of the men found it convenient to stay at the hotel affording them the ability to simply walk to work. It is amazing to me, the more things change, the more they stay the same.

During wartime in the summer months the local boys still at home knew they would have jobs working on the railroad since so many of the men had gone off to war. Ultimately some of the boys quit school to go into the service and on their return either went back to school to complete their high school education before moving on or some were lucky enough to get a job with the railroad which became their life's work.

Through the early years there were a number of very destructive fires on Main Street. Two of the fires in particular necessitated rebuilding or relocating stores. One of the fires entailed a huge explosion totally destroying a building and injuring a number of people.

Diehl Bakery was a staple in the village for a number of years until Bond bread and Wonder bread came into the area considerably reducing the bakery's business.

Saturday night on Main Street was the busiest shopping night of the week. Most of the men worked 6 days a week and having only one car in the family, the only night to shop with their wives was Saturday night. In addition the farmers from outlying areas came to the village to do their shopping as well. It is interesting to note the stores included the First National store, the A&P, Mergardt's Market as well as two hardware stores and two furniture stores. Often while the women did the shopping the men would gather at the Brewster

Garage, the Studebaker Agency. The street was very congested with cars and even horse and buggies. It was a different time.

One of my favorite stories was when the boys were in high school playing football and suddenly their coach was drafted and football season abruptly ended to the disappointment of the players. But some of the boys decided to go a different route and off they went to Carmel High School to join their football team. With no reason to question if they were Carmel students the coach gave them uniforms and was happy to have them join the team. Unfortunately, the coach soon learned the boys were Brewster students, sending them back to their own school ending their football careers both in Carmel and Brewster.

I guess it doesn't matter where or when, the size of the village or town or the year, there will always be distinction in social strata. Back in the 40's there was the overt distinction between those owning or running businesses compared to those who worked for them or farmed the land in the area. For the majority, the main means of making a living was either working for the railroad or farming. You were really considered lucky if you got a job either for the new burgeoning industries like the telephone company, the lighting company or working for the ever-expanding railroad. You were considered set for life with good pay, benefits and pension.

As time went on Brewster began to grow with more businesses coming into the area and the population increasing. The consensus for so many was if the village didn't grow, many would have starved. The economy grew and everyone benefited from the continuous reinventing of Brewster through the years.

I had such a wonderful time getting together with my friends listening to living history and look forward to learning and sharing more stories with our readers in the future.

LIFE IN BREWSTER

The History of The Village of Brewster and The Town of Southeast

As Written in the 2017 Brewster Chamber of Commerce Directory; Pages 21-22 & Photos Courtesy of the Southeast Museum archives

The Town of Southeast, incorporated in 1788, is located approximately fifty miles north of New York City in Putnam County. It is bordered by the Town of Patterson to the north, Town of Carmel to the west, Westchester County to the south, and Connecticut to the east. Within the Town's borders lies the Village of Brewster, whose history is interwoven with that of Southeast.

Putnam County was originally part of Dutchess County. Most of Dutchess and what became Putnam County were part of the Philpse patent except for a strip of land on the east called "the Oblong." The ownership of this parcel was the source of a long-standing dispute between Connecticut and New York that dated back to the mid-1600's. It wasn't until 1731, when the Treaty of Dover provided a temporary settlement of the border in New York State's favor, that villages and towns began to grow. In the early part of the eighteenth century, families from Cape Cod and Long Island began settling in the Oblong along the East Branch of the Croton River. The river valley provided rich fertile soil ideal for farming and an agrarian economy evolved. The Croton River furnished power for mills and small factories, fostering the development of several small towns: Milltown, Sodom (Southeast Center), De Forest Corners and Doanesburg. Agricultural and cottage industries formed the basis of the local economy. Crops and other products were transported across the county to Peekskill and then by sloop to New York City.

During the 1830s, many farmers in the area began to invest in a new and unique business venture: traveling menageries and circuses. Southeast became known as the "Cradle of the American Circus," as many important early shows were based here. Animals were kept in local barns with winter quarters, at one time, on Starr Ridge Road.

In 1849, when the Harlem Line Railroad reached Southeast, and connected the town to New York City, it brought about everlasting change. Walter Brewster, a local architect and builder, foresaw the economic opportunities that the railroad could bring to Southeast. He purchased 134 acres of farmland and constructed passenger and freight depots for the railroad company, thus insuring that the train would stop on his property, soon referred to as "Brewster's Station."

Brewster constructed over 50 homes and businesses and mapped out Main Street for the stages that would transport passengers and cargo to nearby Danbury, Connecticut. In 1881, a second railroad, the Putnam Line, reached the area and the Town of Southeast was coined the "Hub of the Harlem Valley." The new Putnam Line was the fastest route between New York and Boston. Brewster Village became a thriving commercial and transportation center and was incorporated as a separate municipality in 1894.

1932 Brewster Football Team on Garden Street

The railroads fostered the growth of two local industries: mining and dairy. Iron mining had previously been hindered by the expense of transporting iron ore to the blast furnaces where steel was produced.

Southeast's largest and most prosperous mine was the Tilly Foster Mine. At its height of production in 1879, the mine employed approximately 300 workers and yielded 7,000 tons of iron ore per month. The mine closed in 1897 after a disastrous collapse. It is still known worldwide for the extensive range of rocks and minerals found at its site. At the same time as Tilly Foster Mine's prosperity, the dairy industry also blossomed in Southeast.

In 1864 Gail Borden constructed a milk condensery (a product supplied extensively to soldiers during the Civil War, and which saved the lives of many newborns of the era at risk by tainted cows' milk) at the present day juncture of Routes 6 and 22. The New York Condensed Milk Factory was the largest and most advanced plant at that time. Over 200 dairy farmers supplied 20,000 gallons of milk to the factory each day. The factory served as a foundation for the local economy for over fifty years until the Borden Company closed its operation in Brewster, concentrating on its mid-west productions.

While the Town of Southeast prospered in the latter part of the nineteenth century, its economic and physical landscape changed dramatically by the turn of the twentieth century with the construction of the Croton Reservoir System, which supplies drinking water to New York City. Of the eleven dams and reservoirs built on the Croton River from the 1870's through the 1910's, four are in Southeast. Much of the best farmland was flooded and many properties were condemned in order to protect the purity of these watershed areas. These water systems left an indelible mark on the town economy and landscape well into the latter part of the twentieth century when environmental concerns affected development in the watershed.

These restrictions still impact today. The history of the Village of Brewster and the Town of Southeast is rich and full. While there are few visible traces of the area's past, their history— farm and dairy industries, the cradle of the early American circus, iron mining, a transportation hub for two major railroads and the extensive Croton Reservoir system—can still be explored at the Southeast Museum today.

Clean-up Day Recap

The first organized Earth Day activities occurred in 1970 to demonstrate support for environmental protection. Over the years, these activities have grown in scope and it is said to be the largest civic observance in the world.

For the first time ever, Putnam Community Action Partnership (CAP) decided to get involved. We put out a plea to the people of Putnam County to assist with roadside clean-up in the Village of Brewster and the Town of Southeast. 49 new volunteers registered with Putnam CAP and joined the dedicated group of volunteers who have been involved with Earth Day initiatives for years, helping to clean-up our neighborhoods. We also had a group of Girl Scouts from the Town of Carmel who joined our team, and with the help of the Carmel Parks and Recreation Department, they led a clean-up of the area on Route 6 near the Mahopac Library.

The enthusiasm was palpable as the volunteers donned vests and gloves, grabbed their bright orange trash bags, and hit the streets. CAP was proud to work alongside groups from Putnam Dental Associates, Putnam Bright Smile Dentistry, The New York Riders, the Girl Scouts, and many concerned individuals who came with friends and family.

Town of Southeast's Annual 4th of July Fireworks

Come join us SATURDAY, JULY 1ST and have a blast at the annual Town of Southeast Fireworks Celebration! Nicknamed, "Independence Day on Independent Way," the event is held at the Highlands Shopping Center at Independent Way, just off I-84 at Exit 19 Route 312. The celebration includes a spectacular fireworks show beginning at 9:30 PM sharp. Entertainment includes Saving Athens; a great band who's sure to 'rocked the house' starting at 7:00 PM, followed by the team from Spotlight Arts singing the national anthem. There will be plenty of activities and fun for everyone.

Saving Athens Band Members

2017 marks the 5th year that the not-for-profit 501 (c) (3) Town of Southeast Fireworks is running the celebration. What began as a town event now draws up to 14,000 spectators per year, bringing families and the community together to celebrate our great nation's birthday. People from all over Putnam County and beyond come to witness the bursting, shattering, and shimmering sky over the Town of Southeast.

"So many people can also appreciate the fireworks from their yard," adds Committee member, Bill Flash. When the Fireworks Committee took over, they decided to move the event from the lower elevation of Scolpino Park to the much more visible Highlands Shopping Center. The fireworks are set off from Sunset Ridge, a town-owned parcel of land on Independent Way. "If you can see the shopping center, you can see the fireworks," adds Flash.

The shopping center offers convenient parking, eateries and shopping. Please remember that for safety reasons, by order of the Putnam County Sheriff, no open flames or alcoholic beverages are permitted. Just good family fun!

The event wouldn't be possible without the generous support and cooperation of the community, the local businesses, and the shopping center's owners. This year's major sponsors includes DeCicco's of Brewster, CoCo Nails, and Carmel WinWater. Any donation, big or small; even $5 helps the Town of Southeast Fireworks Committee continue this great celebration that is enjoyed by thousands.

If you would like to contribute to keep this event going for future years, please send a check to : Southeast Fireworks, 1360 Route 22, Brewster, NY 10509. You may also make a PayPal payment to southeastny@gmail.com

Please contact us via email if your business is interested in sponsorship opportunities for this event. Visit the town's website for the most up-to-date information regarding the Town of Southeast Fireworks Celebration at: www.southeast-ny.gov.

Putnam County Korean War Veteran Inducted by Murphy into Senate Veteran's Hall of Fame

Albany, NY – During his 18 months in Korea, Corporal George Godfrey dodged plenty of bullets, but never shirked his duty to his country. Working as a police patrolman proved no less arduous, but he served the Village of Brewster with honor and distinction for seven years. In recognition of sterling military service and tireless community work, Senator Terrence Murphy selected Mr. Godfrey as the 40th Senate District's 2017 inductee into the New York State Veterans' Hall of Fame. Mr. Godfrey was honored at a special ceremony held at the State Capital in Albany on May 16th.

"Like many men of his generation, George has lived his life admirably and served his country with dignity and honor," said Senator Murphy. "He came home and helped his community in the same way he served his country – with dedication and a selfless commitment to aiding others. His induction into the Senate Veterans' Hall of Fame is just one more way to give him a well-deserved expression of our thanks."

The New York State Senate Veterans' Hall of Fame was created in 2005 to honor and recognize outstanding veterans from the Empire State who have distinguished themselves both in military and civilian life. The Hall of Fame is comprised of New York veterans from each senate district throughout the state. Each honoree's photograph and biography will become part of a special online exhibit proclaiming the contributions of these exemplary New York Veterans. Mr. Godfrey was born and raised in Brewster and attended Brewster High School.

He enlisted in the Army in 1951, and was trained at Fort Devens in Massachusetts and at Fort Campbell in Kentucky before being shipped to Seoul, Korea. Serving admirably in the heart of the hostilities he was awarded the Korean Service Medal with three Bronze Stars, the Combat Infantry Badge and the National Service Medal. Returning to Brewster, Mr. Godfrey joined the police department. He has dedicated his life to community service. He is a 57-year member of the Brewster-Southeast Volunteer Fire Department, and greets commuters every day at the Brewster train station as they embark and disembark, providing a sense of security and caring.
